Trojan Country

Home Of The Good Life.

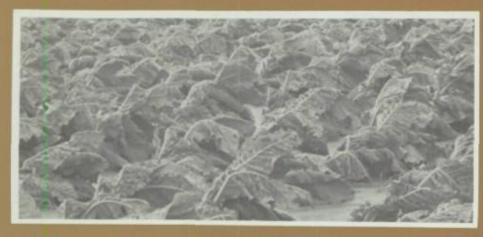

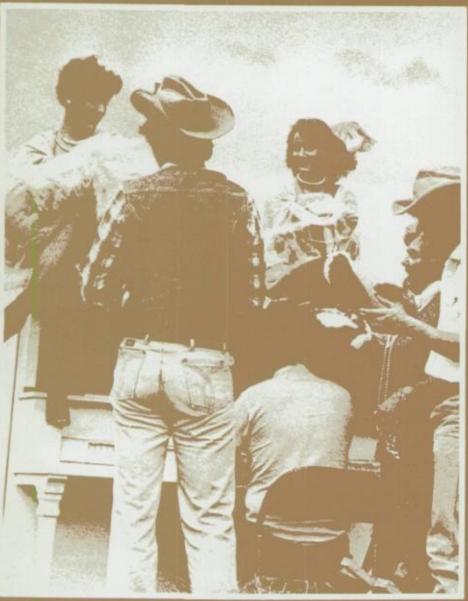

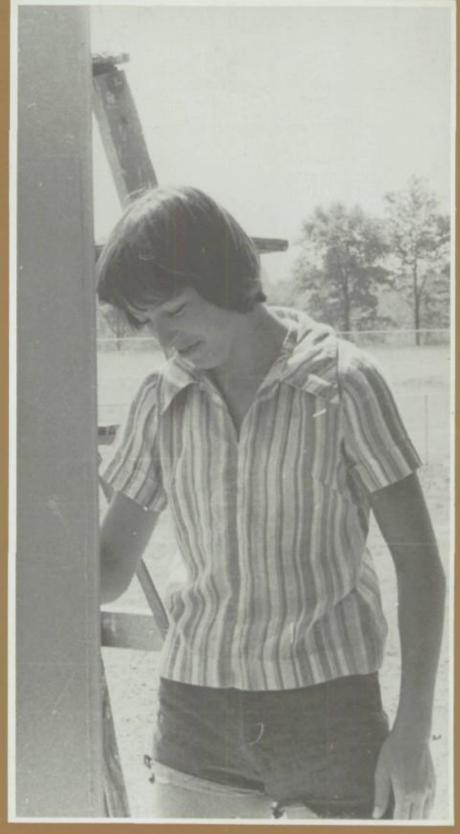

The simple life and simple things are what we know best. Tilling the soil, planting the seeds and reaping the harvest are what Trojan Country is all about.

Lanoline
To one girl who delle a lot.
Joed Luch this you good Locking.

Trojan Country is where you find the good life. It's a place where men work hard, children play hard and people truly care about each other.

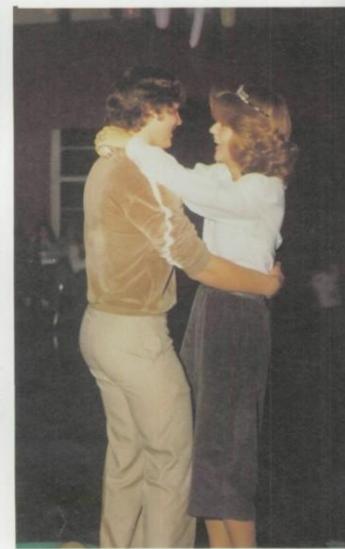

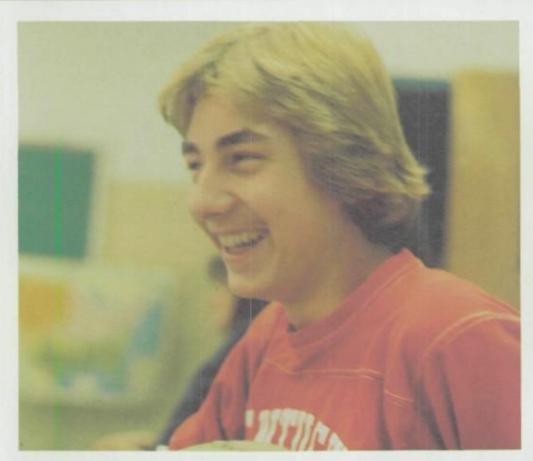

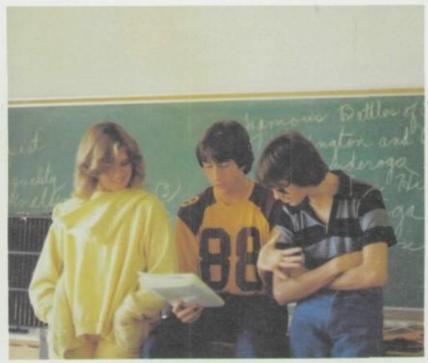

The skies are not greyed with smog nor the earth covered with concrete but rather skies are blue and goldenrod grows in abundance. Animals graze on rich, green pastureland and parents allow children to play with a carefreeness uncommon in an urban society. The people, good times and the American way of life are what Trojan Country is all about.

The Wide Open Spaces Of Trojan Country

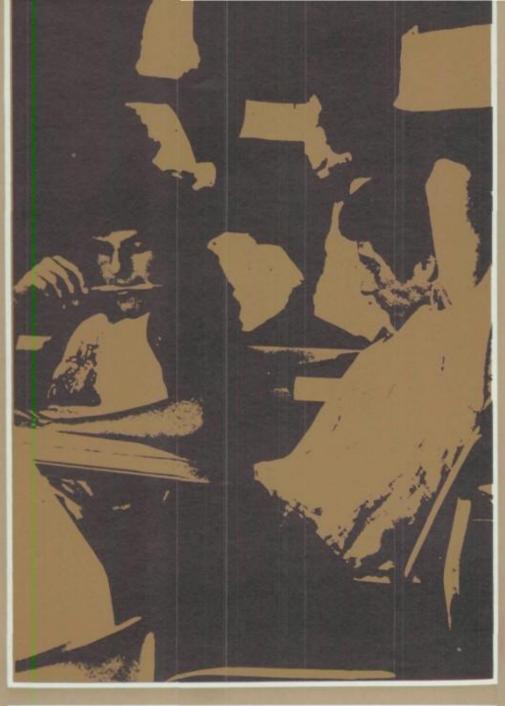

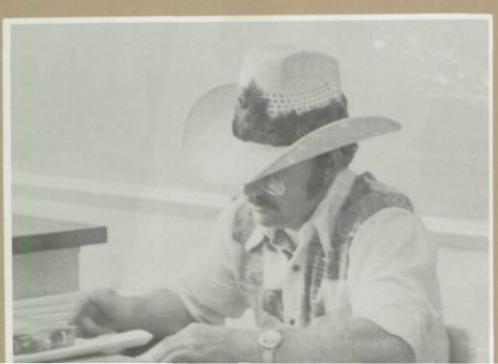

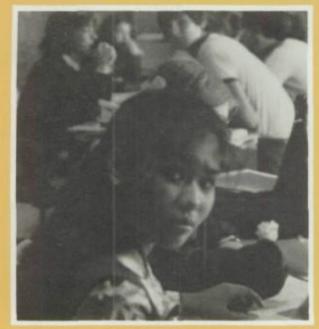

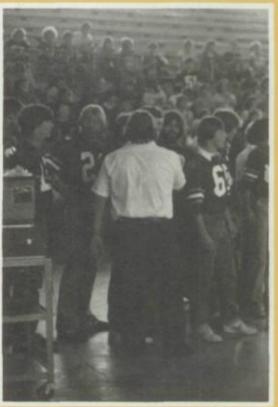

The peace and calmness of Trojan Country brings its people closer together and binds them to the community as a whole.

Trojan Country ... A Place Of Great

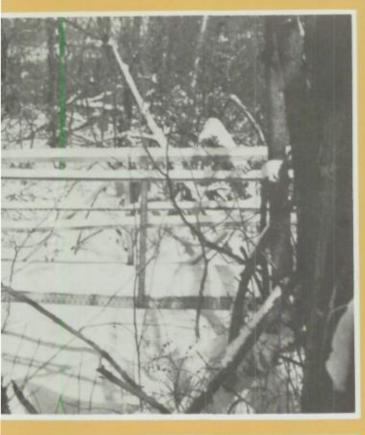

We plant crops and harvest much more than the grain in Trojan Country. We are rich because we are people of the soil-our hands are calloused but ever lively-we're country folk with a great sense of respect for the rural American way of life.

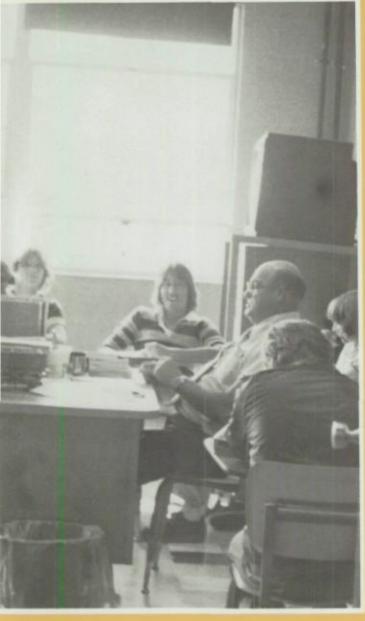

Harvest

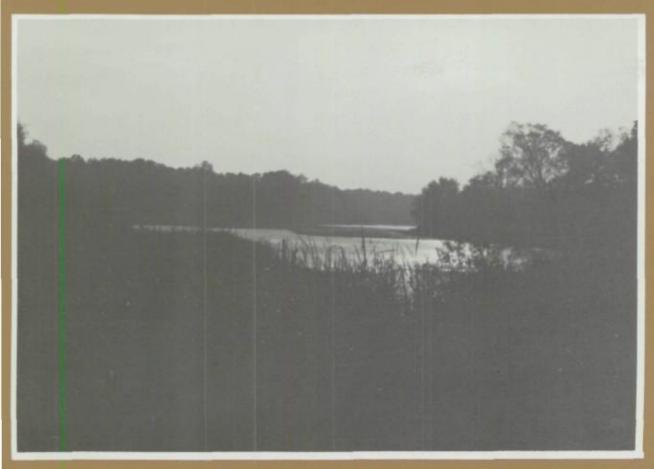

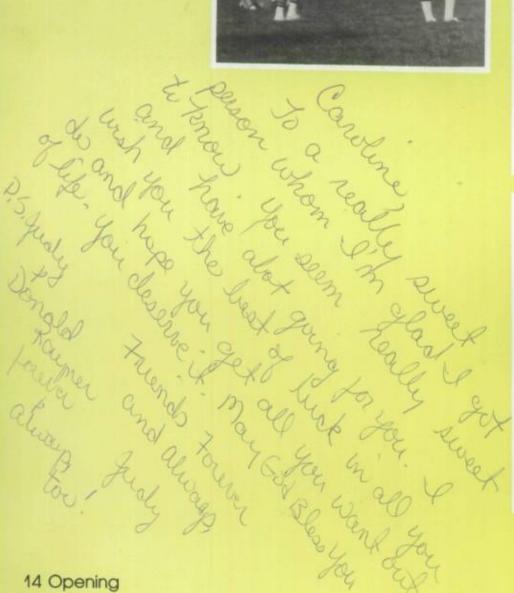

Trojan Country was shocked when the United States Supreme Court overruled the Kentucky Supreme Courts' decision to hang the Ten Commandments in class-rooms.

The Country Life Is What We Know Best

As you drive through the narrow, winding roads of Trojan Country, farms, small communities and elements of nature are permanently cemented in your mind and they are treasured throughout your life.

'80 Into '81

The school year began with turbulance as eight American servicemen died in the aborted attempt to rescue the 52 hostages in Iran. In January of 1981 the hostages were released after 443 days in captivity.

The Oakland Raiders won the Super Bowl and the Philadelphia Phillies won the World Series after defeating the Kansas City Royals. The Indiana Hoosiers were proclaimed N.C.A.A. Basketball Champs in late March.

The presidential race ended with Ronald Reagan defeating incumbant Jimmy Carter. President Reagan promised, "an era of national renewal." for the upcoming years.

Kentucky gained recognition as the movie, "Coal Miners Daughter" was filmed in our home state.

Styles of clothing varied from the western look to the 60's look. New name brands hit the fashion scene, such as "Izod", "Calvin Klein", and "Candies". Fashion accessories made a big hit with "crayon" pins and other assorted pins.

Ex-Beatle, John Lennon was killed December eighth in New York by a sniper.

The State Board of Education recommended that local school districts follow the Attorney General's opinion that local copies of the Ten Commandments be removed from the public school classrooms.

Much controversy was brought about to the public as a result of the deaths of 25 black children in Atlanta by an unknown assaultant.

On the local front, over 70 candidates filed for the county elections. In early April Western Kentucky coal miners went out on strike as did employees at Big Rivers R.E.C.C. near Sebree.

Georgia Farmer Visits Kentucky

The air was filled with tension and thousands of people crowded the streets of Henderson when United States President Jimmy Carter came to town July 22, 1980.

Members of the Special Weapons and Tactics (S.W.A.T.) units were stationed on nearly every roof top in downtown Henderson and military helicopters and air planes continually circled the area throughout Carter's visit.

For the first time since 1948, when President Harry Truman came through by train, area residents paid home town respect to a visiting chief executive. Hundreds of Webster Countians were among those who lined streets to get a glimpse of Carter as he waved from the presidential limousine as it traveled down Henderson's Main Street. Members of the Webster County Trojan Band were among those bands invited to play for the President. Many of these students experienced a once in a lifetime opportunity by performing for Carter. Most of them will never be able to see another U.S. President except through pictures in newspapers or television.

Although many of the thousands of people who stood along the parade route were not staunch Carter supporters, they came to pay due respect to our nation's chief.

The sign waving crowd was delighted when Carter jumped out of his limousine to shake hands with persons who were lining the streets.

The excitement for many came not in the form of the parade but from seeing the President when he stepped off Air Force One at Dress Regional Airport in Evansville, Indiana.

First-Aid Team Organized To Help With In-School Emergencies

Webster County High School had something new and different this year-a First Aid Team. Students wishing to be on the team had to fill out an application and 24 students were selected. Being on the team required attending First-Aid and two CPR classes all day for two Saturdays and passing a test in each course. Out of the 24 students thirteen finished both courses two passed the tests. On Feb. 18 the thirteen students who are members of the first-aid team presented a First-Aid demonstration, "The Great Boiler Explosion": A Mock Disaster, for the entire student body and faculty. The first-aid team was also judged by a panel of E.M.T.'s which gave the team an excellant rating. The team was chosen and started by Patricia Berry. Mrs. Berry was aided by Charles Miller an EMT from Hopkinsville-and a First-aid Instructor. The purpose of the first-aid team is to help with any accidents that may occur in school and to prepare young people on coping with emergency situations.

College Days/Seminars Held For Seniors

In an effort to prepare students for their future education and careers two college days and a financial aid seminar were held.

These seminars were organized by the guidance office and senior class officers.

College Days were held on November 18 and 19 with nine colleges participating. They were: Madisonville Community College, Henderson Community College, Madisonville Allied School, ITT, Lockyear College, Owensboro Business College, Western Kentucky University, Murray State University, University of Kentucky and the University of Evansville.

Approximately one hundred seniors participated in this event. Each student was allowed to attend two 40 minute sessions with the colleges of their choice.

A financial aid seminar was held January 22nd. There were 42 seniors in attendance. The program was sponsored by the guidance department and had as guest speakers, Mr. Don Taylor and Mr. Tony Payne, representatives from Owensboro Junior College. Mr. Payne is a member of the Kentucky Financial Board for higher education. His presentation included information on federal grants, state grants, guaranteed bank loans, work study loans and other types of financial assistance available to seniors. These sessions are arranged to help students achieve educational goals.

The Gift Of Life

On Tuesday, March 3, W.C.H.S. students participated in the fourth annual Red Cross blood drive. Forty-one pints of blood were donated by 17 and 18 year old students. The W.C.H.S. TTT club provided refreshments to the participants.

Students from the vocational school health careers class were trained prior to the blood drive and assisted Red Cross nurses in taking temperatures, giving out donor blood bags and assisting donors to and from tables.

The blood drive is held four times each year throughout the county to help meet Webster County's blood quota.

East(ern) Bound

It was an exciting season for the Lady Trojans as they finished the season 27-4 and earned a berth in the Sweet Sixteen at Richmond. Their trip to the state tourney was a first for a WCHS basketball team. The Lady Trojans met Sheldon Clark in the second day of the opening rounds and defeated the Cardinals 48-35; but is was downhill for the Lady Trojans in the quarter finals as they suffered defeat (55-31) at the hands eventual state champs, Pulaski County.

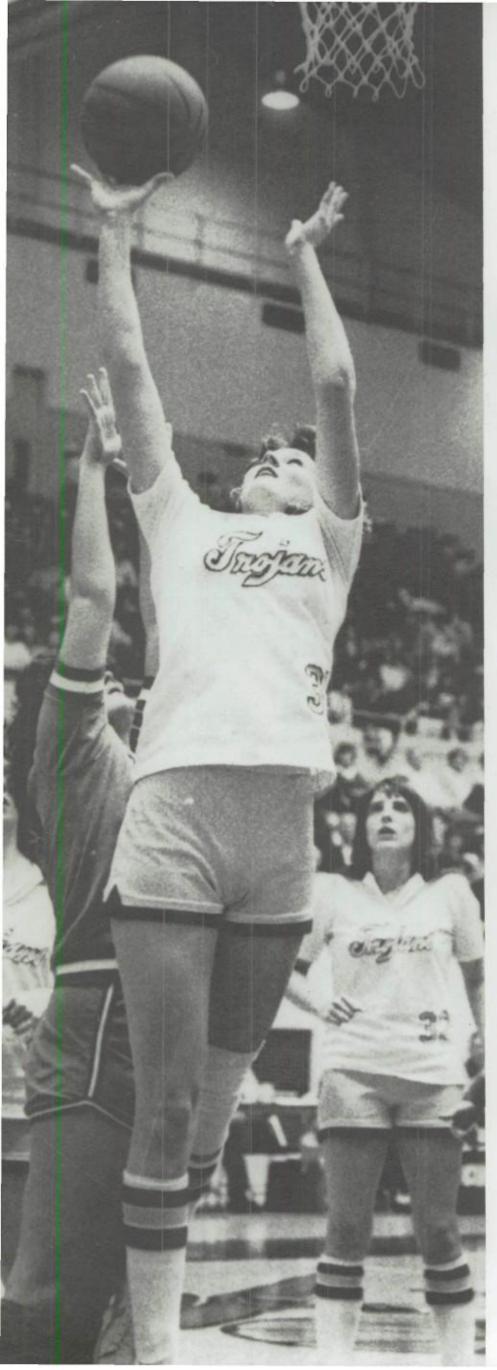

Fans, parents and the band followed the Lady Trojans to the state and continually honored the girls before and after state competition. Parades and dinners were held frequently as the Lady Trojans proved that Trojan pride is indeed county wide.

Favorites

Have you ever wondered what the students at W.C.H.S. think are the best movies, songs, etc.? The yearbook staff took a survey to find out the W.C.H.S. 80-81 favorites. Students were asked to list three favorite movies, books, pop songs, pop singers, country songs and country singers. These are the W.C.H.S. 80-81 favorites.

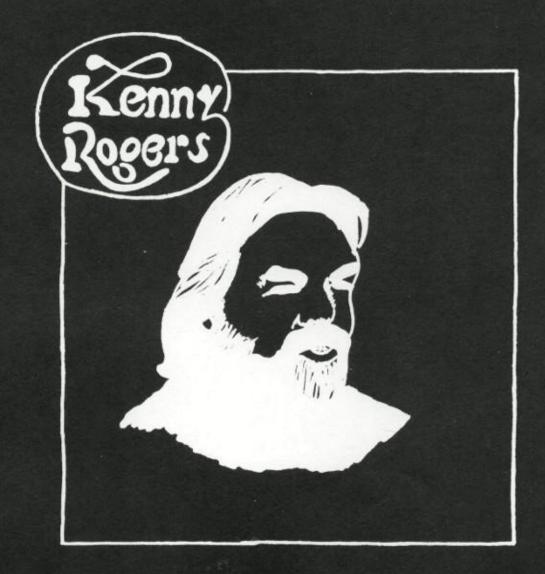

The top movie was Stir Crazy, a comedy about prison life starring Gene Wilder and Richard Pryor. The number two movie was 9 to 5, a comedy about office-workers trying to get ahead, it starred Lily Tomlin, Jane Fonda, and Dolly Parton. The movie taking third place was Blue Lagoon, the story of a boy and a girl growing up and falling in love while marooned on a desert island starring Brooke Shields and Christopher Atkins. A turn-around in religious views at mid-year brought about by youth revivals held throughout the county brought more awareness to the Bible. The Bible and The Amittyville Horror received the most third place votes. First and second place went to Flowers in the Attic and Petals on the Wind, two books by V.C. Andrews about the dark secrets of a woman, her four children and their wicked grandmother.

The top pop song was Keep on Lovin' You by R.E.O. Speedwagon. Second on the pop chart was Celebration by Kool and the Gang. Last but not least was Rapture by Blondie. Third place in the pop group or vocalist category went to Queen. AC-DC received the most second place votes and the top pop group at W.C.H.S. was R.E.O. Speedwagon, who also performed the number one song.

Students at W.C.H.S. also like to listen to country music. Number one on the country chart was 9 to 5 which is sung by Dolly Parton. Second on the list is Lady sung by Kenny Rogers. I Love a Rainy Night, sung by Eddie Rabbit, received third place. Receiving the most third place votes in the country group or vocalist section is the Charlie Danlels Band. Second on the list was Dolly Parton. The number one country singer was Kenny Rogers.

Now you know what to tell your children when they ask what was popular when you were a kid and you will always have fond memories or 1980-1981.

Dr. Otis Reed, Jr.

The new principal at WCHS is Dr. Otis Reed, Jr. Dr. Reed comes to us from Western Middle School in Louisville, Kentucky. Since he began teaching in 1966 he has worked toward becoming a principal. His first experience at being principal came this year when he was selected to become the new principal at WCHS.

He received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees from Murray State University and his Doctorate degree from Indiana University in Bloomington.

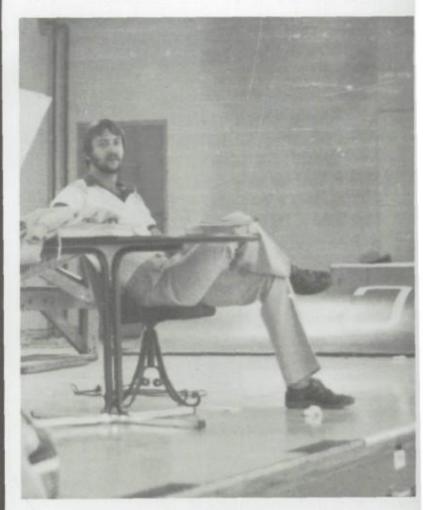

The middle school where he was a guidance counselor has an enrollment of 900 seventh and eighth grade students, while WCHS has an enrollment of 750 ninth thru twelfth grade students which makes quite a difference in the sizes of the two schools. Western is an inner city school and according to Dr. Reed, the students don't take their education as seriously as students here; therefore, their attendance was lower than that at WCHS. There were also more discipline problems at his former school which makes WCHS a welcomed relief.

When Dr. Reed was in high school, his interest were pretty much the same as students here. He was involved in several extracurricular activities such as baseball and band.

Today his hobbies include jogging, raquet ball, reading, and fishing.

Dr. Reed says that the people and towns of Webster County welcomed him with open arms and showed interest in him and the school. He also stated that the staff and students of WCHS were helpful and supportive and he feels his job is rewarding.

Below Mr. Gibson relaxes during sixth period study hall.

Janice Gillaspie

Mrs. Gillaspie explains the catering service as a hobbie. She says "I enjoy my work."

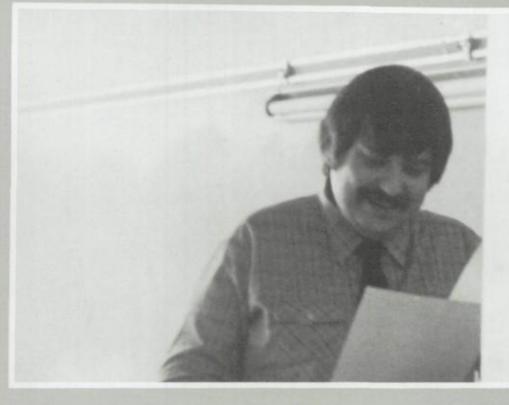

Mrs. Janice Gillaspie has been a mathematics teacher at WCHS for eleven years and is now head of the math department. Now, in addition to teaching math and caring for her family, Mrs. Gillaspie is constantly involved in her catering service. Her first experience at cake decorating and catering came with fellow teachers Mrs. Thressa McClain's wedding. A confusion at the bakery caused Mrs. McClain's cake not to be ready so 2½ hours before the wedding Mrs. Gillaspie, with the help of then Dixon resident Shirley Macklem, a wedding cake was produced. Ever since then, Mrs. Gillaspie has catered such occasions as weddings, anniversaries, open houses, rehersal dinners, and class reunions.

Some of the foods she serves class reunions are: two or three meat choices, casseroles, vegetable dishes, and desserts. At weddings she serves the traditional wedding cake, punch, mints and nuts, and occasionally pastries and finger sandwiches.

When she has a wedding to cater she sits down with the bride and discusses what she will do, expenses and reception ideas.

Because she is so busy she sometimes gives a list of ingredients to the bride so she can look for them. This saves time for Mrs. Gillaspie and money for the bride. Due to her busy schedule, Mrs. Gillaspie has to organize her children and school work in order to fit her catering into her time-table. Her family is also very cooperative in helping her in her work.

Jack Scott

The newest teacher at WCHS this year is Mr. Jack Scott. He is the teacher of the new Special Education class at WCHS. He stated that the class was set up for "individuals who have individual academic needs that mass public education has failed to provide for." When asked about the curriculum of his class he said that he taught all basic academic disciplines depending on the individual needs of each student. Mr. Scott also said that the students' academic success is their enjoyment. When asked how he got started in special education he answered this with another question "Why did Helen Keller teach the deaf and blind?" In closing he said that he picked Special Education for his field of teaching because: "I like to turn on lights in dark rooms."

FFA members have participated in a land judging contest, tractor driving contest, sold Aggie nuts and candy bars, gone to National Convention, demonstrated parliamentary procedure to 4-H, packed Christmas baskets, and participated in Green hand and chapter farmer ceremonies.

A Final Word

I hope that this yearbook will bring many pleasant memories to you in the years to come. The staff has worked hard to cover as many activities as we could this year to give you as many memories as possible.

Thanks to everyone who had a part in the production of this book. I would like to give a special thanks to our sponsor Regina Catlett, for helping us and teaching us how to compile a year-book.

I hope that in the years to come everyone will be able to look back at this yearbook and remember all of the special things that happened during this school year. I would like to say that it has been a pleasure working on the Trojan yearbook and I would like to thank all of the staff for working so hard.

Trojan spirit blossoms in the faces of the students and shows the true growth of the school's morale.

De a very nice and sweet girl who a don't know very well , but I rope we can become better friends through the years. Good luck with allen Drienas Forever Susan Trojan pride and courage will continually flow and flourish throughout all eternity, thriving on the elements of nature like a desolate country stream in an inhabited pastureland.

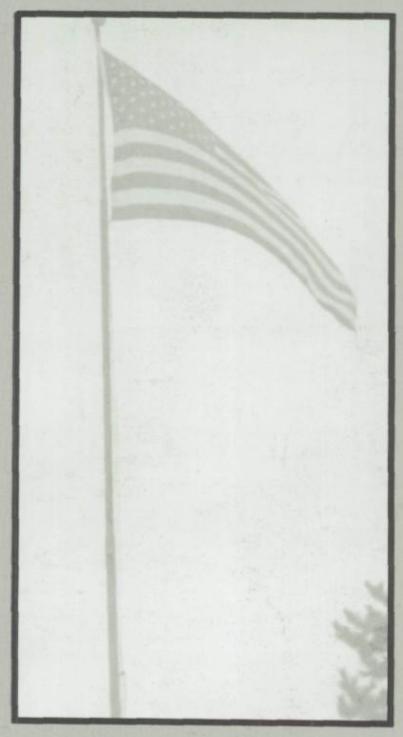

On November 4, 1979 American diplomats from the American Embassy in Iran were taken hostage by Iranian militants. That was the day when America went from a calm nation into a state of national turmoil. While American citizens were in a great upset they looked to the Ten Commandments for spiritual guidance. "In America", the Charlie Daniels Band's latest hit single stated, "We may have stumbled but we ain't never fell ..." gave U.S. citizens courage and pride in their country. On January 20, 1981 the American hostages were released and had a safe journey back home, but tragedy struck again March 30, 1981 when President Ronald Reagan was struck by a snipper's bullet.

The snowy meadows in Trojan Country reflect a distant peace and solitude of the sparsely populated area. The rolling hillsides whether lush with greenness or blanketed in snow serve as many Webster Countians' bread and butter.
